Charlotte Cushman's Art.

Henry Irving's story of Charlotte Cushman gives a better idea of the method and style of this great artist than a dozen impersonal and well-padded essays would. She was playing Mcg Merriles schulion of this problem, but that here given is have made from remnants which the character in the piece, hands her his purse filled with the broken crockery which is generally used for stage gold One day Miss Cushman suggested genth to him the superior realism of opening the purse, selecting a coin and giving it to her. No matter how magnificen it might look, it was hardly natural for gentleman to hand over a purse full of money to a crazy beggar,

A New Fnd in Ten.

On some parts of the European continent a small plece of vanilla is put into the teapot together with the tea. The flavors are said to blend well, just as is Russia you take your tumbler of tea with a slice of lemon, instead of milk, and as in France and Germany you add i teaspoonful or arrack or rum in your thimbleful of after-dinner coffee. But there is yet a daintier way of takner your vanilla flavor with you tea And this refined manner is British and not continental. When ten or coffee service is being made, vanilla flavor i added to the china when it is in the potter's hands, and thus it is baked into every article of the set. Whenever afterwards, as the tes hings get hot as they are being used they exhale a faint aroma of vinilla which to the fastidious may be prefer ble to the actual infusion into beverage of the piece of square stem or the vanilla aromatica.

My Boy.

His mind conceives vast schemes to span The nursery floor with railroad plan; He sails brave ships in childish play To Ceylon's isle and fair Cathay; No land remote or unconfessed Lies hidden from his viking quest; No castle tower can e'er withstand His tin-clad soldiers' fierce command; His knights in tourney never fail, His prince must win the Holy Graff, Beforehand, it is understood He'll wake the beauty of the wood, And all the giants' heads will fall Before his sounding bugle call!
